North Country National Scenic Trail

Section Map and Description

Clark Hill State Forest to Rome Mohawk River Trail Road Walk

The North Country National Scenic Trail was established by the US Congress in 1980 as one of eleven National Scenic Trails providing a system of hiking experiences through the continental United States. The intent of the Scenic Trails system is to provide a pleasurable footpath experience through sections of natural beauty and open space wherever possible.

Since many of the trails were created after private land use and development had been well established, it was necessary to connect scenic footpaths and wilderness adventure with occasional walks along multi-use segments, roadways and byways to provide a contiguous connection for the through-hiker and long-distance trekker.

This is one of those segments. To proceed between the wilderness of Clark Hill State Forest and the serenity of Rome's Mohawk River Trail, this route traverses quiet country roads and lesser-used county byways. While hiking this section, you will pass over hills, valleys, streams and open farm country and see views of the upper Mohawk Valley.
